- The magazine is distributed free of charge to subscribers.
- The magazine is a key platform to communicate ACA's corporate goals.

Abstract

Our Conservation Magazine is a free, biannual publication that highlights the projects and success we and our member groups experience in the province. ACA's communication team produces the magazine. It covers topical conservation issues, and helps bridge understanding between the hunting and angling communities as well as the larger conservation community. The magazine also helps increase our profile across Alberta and is used as a tool by some of the following program areas to reach out to potential donors and partners: Fisheries, Wildlife, Land Management, and Business Development. We mail the magazine to our subscribers and distribute it at trade shows and events. It is also available online: www.ab-conservation.com → Our Work → Publications → Conservation Magazine.

In 2019/20 we printed a combined 30,000 copies, including articles about the important balance between conservation and agriculture, the science behind fish stocking, and partnerships in conservation with the oil and gas sector. The total number of subscribers now exceeds 13,000.

Introduction

Conservation Magazine is a free, biannual publication produced by Alberta Conservation Association (ACA) that highlights the projects and work we and our member groups are doing in Alberta, discusses topical conservation issues, and bridges an understanding between the hunting and angling communities and larger conservation community. The magazine helps increase ACA's profile in Alberta and is used as a tool by some of our program areas (Fisheries, Wildlife, Land Management, and Business Development) to reach out to potential donors and partners. The magazine is delivered to subscribers and distributed at trade shows and events. It is also available in digital format.

Methods

Conservation Magazine is an ongoing project within the Information, Education, and Communications Program, which is responsible for developing content and ideas for the magazine, finding and assigning writers, editing the text and coordinating the editing process, fact checking, finding imagery, designing the publication, and print management. Content development is constant, with multiple issues in different stages of production at the same time.

Results

We printed a combined 30,000 copies in 2019, including articles about the important balance between conservation and agriculture, the science behind fish stocking, and partnerships in conservation with the oil and gas sector. The total number of subscribers now exceeds 13,000.

Conclusions

Conservation Magazine continues to provide content to engage and entertain audiences interested in conservation and generate awareness of ACA resource program projects, member groups, and partnerships.
