Partnerships:

N/A

Key Findings

- No additional publications were developed or designed.

Abstract

Through education outreach activities and partnerships, superior products can be developed for the end-user, and collaborative conservation relationships can be enhanced. In 2018, Nature Alberta approached ACA and Alberta Environment and Parks to combine resources and expertise to produce a more robust riparian resource for the public within their Living Edge program. ACA printed and delivered 1,000 units of the publication in December 2018. This project was to accommodate additional printing in 2019/20, which did not materialize.

Introduction

Caring for Shorelines is an existing watershed resource that had become outdated and was to be rewritten and republished in 2016. Nature Alberta approached Alberta Conservation Association (ACA) and Alberta Environment and Parks to combine resources and expertise to produce a more robust riparian resource for the public within their Living Edge program. This project was to accommodate additional printing in 2019/20, which did not materialize.

Methods

Additional publications or print needs did not take place in 2019/20.

Results

Additional publications or print needs did not take place in 2019/20.

Conclusions

Inactive project.
